THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1911.

The Richmond papers are working the Beattie trial to such an extent that we can't help thinking they are glad it all happened.

President Taft seems to place great stakes on his little tariff board. But of course everybody knows in advance what the conclusions and recommendations of a partisan tariff board will be.

If Col. Wade H. Harris, of the Charlotte Chronicle, doesn't mind he is going to be the instigator of more roadwork. He wants the Seaboard to cut out over an hour of slack in its passenger schedule between Charlotte and Wilmington and make it a five-hour run.

A head line in one of the leading daily papers of the State a day or two ago read, "Girl of the Under World Sues." While some of our leading dailies have a wonderful reputation for journalistic enterprise, this is the first intimation that they have succeeded in establishing a "press service" down there.

President Taft patted the Democrats on the shoulder and told them they were noble, patriotic fellows to rise above party and vote for his pet measure, the Canadian reciprocity bill. But when it came to the Democratic tariff measures the President was not big enough and patriotic enough to rise above party and allow them to become the law of the land, but promptly vetoed them.

We do not know if our townsman, Mr. T. T. Hicks, quite agrees with Mr. Dooley with reference to the constant perils of autoists, but it is the opinion of the latter gentleman that "the man with the automobile is constantly steering" between the poorhouse and the county jail, and if the police don't land him in war, the automobile will land him in the other." Anyway, Mr. Hicks' article on the subject, which appears on the first page of this paper, makes very entertaining reading matter.

Of the ninety-three applicants before the Superior Court this week for license to practice law in this State, one was a woman, the first of her sex, so far as we now recall, to apply for license to practice law in North Carolina. It is not yet known if she successfully passed the examination, but if she did, and if she is as good at quizzing and arguing as most other women are, she ought to be able to make a success in her chosen profession.

Wonder who is back of those highly exaggerated estimates that would indicate a bumper tobacco crop in North Carolina this year, and what their object can be in sending out these estimates so persistently at this time? It is a matter of common knowledge here in Vance county that the crop in this section will do well if it finally shows up to be 60 to 70 per cent of what it was last year.
And from general reports it is little if any better anywhere else in the State.

The Greenville Reflector wants the Gold Leaf to tell what a "whiffenpoof" is. We are not sure that our information is absolutely accurate, but a Henderson man says it is "a big ad about nothing." It is a part of the business of newspaper people to "run down" such things and "sift" them. Now then you find a person who has done something that is in the judgment of the doer ought to be worth at least a column in the paper, while the newspaper man can see only two to five lines in it. Did you ever hunt 'em, Mr. Reflector.

The rather vigorous agitation that has been started here in favor of a more aggressive and wide-awake municipal government has already begun to attract attention throughout the State. Several papers, including one or two of the leading dailies, have noted it with hearty approval and commended it to the favorable consideration of the citizens of their respective towns. It is a generally recognized fact the world over that without a progressive and up-to-date municipal government no city or town is in a position to grow and develop as fast as it otherwise would, and it is therefore no wonder that the call to progress and better things in the municipal affairs of Hustling Henderson should attract the attention of other cities and towns. Let it be understood, however, that there are no charges of corruption or wrong-doing against our city officials. Mr. Pence seems to set that matter straight this week by saying frankly that all our city officials are honorable men, and that he is not after men but progress.

Pushing Work on Big Power Line.

The Carolina Light and Power Company is vigorously prosecuting the work of construction on its power line from Raleigh to this place and hopes to have it completed and ready for the transmission of power early in November. Several squads of hands are at work between the two places, cleaning off the right of way, digging holes and setting up the great poles on which the wires will be strung. Some of these have their headquarters here and at Kit-trel, Franklinton, Neuse and Raleigh. The construction work is making satisfactory progress all along the line.

Work on the substation that will be used for distributing the power over Henderson and to the various manufacturing concerns that will use it is now in progress near the Harriet Mills, where it has been decided to locate. As this will be finished and ready for use before the main line is completed. From this point lines will radiate in all directions, carrying the power to its consumers in every part of the city and its suburbs.

From this point a line of high poles has been erected to the Henderson Cotton Mills in the northern part of the city, and this big mill will be operated by electric power.
The poles used on this line are from 45 to 60 feet in height in order to get the power lines up above the shade trees. Similar lines to other manufacturing plants and sections of the city will be constructed, and everything will be in readiness for turning on the new current by the time the main line between Raleigh and Henderson is done.

Work on the big line between Blewett Falls and Raleigh is also going forward as fast as possible.
Steel towers are being erected on this line, and it will be ready to convey the current before the great dam across the Pee Dee river at Blewett Falls is completed. But Henderson will not have to wait on this, as power will be in the meantime be sent from Backhorn Falls on the Cape Fear river near Moncure.

Farmers Will Pool Tobacco Crop.

The bright-tobacco growers of North Carolina and Virginia held a great convention at Greensboro last Friday and Saturday and unanimously adopted plans to pool the 1911 tobacco crop, and completed a union of strength which they believe will be effective in warding against the tobacco trusts. This convention was held under the auspices of the Farmers' Union and its deliberations were therefore behind closed doors. Hence very little of the proceedings of this convention was given out for publication.

It is learned, however, that the farmers agreed to hold their tobacco for fifteen and twenty cents a pound, according to the grades, and furthermore that the members of the Union are in a position to secure the price demanded. They are backed by strong financial institutions and in connection with the pooling plan have organized a banking system that cannot be surpassed. Such are the claims of the tobacco farmers who met at Greensboro last week, and they confidently expect to "make good."

This project of pooling the tobacco crop did not originate from a sudden impulse, but on the other hand the farmers have been getting ready for it for some time. Throughout the Piedmont section of North Carolina and Virginia ten large tobacco plantations have been erected during the past few years, and as more are now in course of construction. These will be used to store the crop in the communities in which they are located, each of them having a capacity of over 5,000,000 pounds, the general average being sufficient to store the crop of a whole county.

By means of this union of forces the farmers claim that they will be able to place their crops on the market at almost one-half of the cost they have heretofore incurred in marketing. The farmers are directing their fight chiefly against the tobacco trusts and the warehouse owners, who they claim have been tofore managed to squeeze about all the profits of the producers of tobacco.

Industrial Track Located.

Of the three different routes surveyed for the "Industrial Track" to be built here by the Seaboard Air Line it has finally been decided to use the one that starts south of the Harriet-Cove crossing and goes out through the Lassiter lands, the Chavasse estate and the Buchanan property to the road leading from Fairground street.
The track will be two miles long, and the Chamber of Commerce has two and one-half miles frontage on it.
This land will be sold to those who enter into an agreement to use it for industrial purposes, this being actual cost to that body. The Seaboard Air Line Railway Company has appropriated $20,000 for the construction of this track, and work is expected to begin on it just as contracts can be let. Several options on sites along the track have already been secured by parties who establish manufacturing or other industrial plants on them, and others are prospecting with the same end in view. This is undoubtedly one of the very best opportunities to prospective manufacturers now open in the State and all will do well to investigate the many superior advantages Henderson thus has to offer. The "Industrial Track" will prove to be a great thing for Henderson and the manufacturing enterprises that locate along it.

"The Fall of Troy," the most spectacular and magnificent moving picture in the world, will be shown at the Pastime Theatre Thursday and Friday nights of this week.
There will also be matinee each week at 3:30. Evening performances will be from 7:30 to 10:30. It cost $30,000 to produce this great picture in two reels. Don't fail to see it. The Pastime has been enlarged and there will be plenty of room for everybody.

The theatrical season in Henderson will open on Monday evening, September 11th, with "The Nest Egg," by Anne Caldwell as the attraction at the Grand Theatre on that evening. A number of high-class shows have been booked for Henderson during the coming season, which promises to be one of unusual interest to theatre-goers.

Church News.

The North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church will meet with the Henderson church on Wednesday, November 22nd, and will be in session five days.

The protracted meeting at Gill-burg Methodist Protestant church will begin on the fourth Sunday in September and continue through that week. The meeting will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. C.
Stubbins.

His friends and congregations will be glad to know that Rev. C. E.
Newman has about recovered from smallpox and is now able to be up and walk about. He will return home from Virginia as soon as he is finally recovered.

The Albemarle Presbytery will meet in the Falkland church at Falkland on Tuesday, October 3rd.
Sumner of Northern, Rev. J. N. H.
Sumner, of Raleigh, is moderator, and Rev. J. A. McClure, of Henderson, is stated clerk.

Work was begun on the steeple of the Presbyterian church Monday morning. It will be replaced just as it stood before, and a lightning rod will be placed on it for its protection.
The outside brick walls of the church are to be painted right away, and will be made the same color of the courthouse.

Rev. T. L. Chavasse, whose work has been at Shippensburg, Pa., during the past year, is spending some time here with his cousin, Mrs. D. Y.
Cooper. Rev. Mr. Chavasse lived in England until a year ago, and this is his second visit to his relatives in Henderson since he came to America.
He will make a trip to Manila before returning to England.

The new Island Creek Baptist church is nearly completed and the congregation can now hold their services in the new building by using the seats from the old church. The new church is a nice modern wooden structure with ample seating capacity for its large congregation. It will cost about $3,000 and will be painted some time soon.

There will be a call meeting of the Albemarle Presbytery Friday of this week at Oxford at 3:30 p. m., to transact business on business.
At this meeting the Presbytery will act on the resignation of Rev. G. B.
Thompson, pastor of the Oxford church, who has received a call to a charge at Bristol, Tenn., and to dismiss him to Holston Presbytery if the way be clear. It will also consider the matter of giving Olivet and Pinetops churches permission to prosecute a call before East Hanover Presbytery for the pastoral services of Rev. F. F. Jones, and to take all steps necessary to this settlement in case he is dismissed.

Graded Schools Will Open Monday, September 11, 1911.

ALL pupils must present a certificate of vaccination on entering. The continued presence of small-pox in our community makes it imperative that a complete vaccination be required in all the schools of the county including the graded schools. Parents, please have the children vaccinated immediately and furnished the certificate to the school.

The physicians of Henderson have generously agreed to meet at the school building and examine children for any contagious disease which is not responsible for their work. Frequently children make poor progress in their studies when the trouble comes from some physical defect. The child will be furnished with a card calling attention to what should have the immediate attention of the family physician. There will be no charge for this examination. Parents are urged to attend to this.

The physicians will attend at the school building as follows and the children should see them during these periods:
Monday, September 4, from 9 to 10 a. m., Dr. J. H. Spaulding and Dr. F. E. Mer-mon.
Monday, September 11, from 9 to 10 a. m., Dr. Allen and Dr. Perkins.
Tuesday, September 18, from 9 to 10 a. m., Dr. Gill and Dr. Perkins.
Tuesday, September 25, from 9 to 10 a. m., Dr. Bass and Dr. Fendleton.
The examinations will continue as long as may be necessary.
Everybody is mutually interested in good health and the safety of the children and the community. Let all work together.

South Henderson News Items.

Misses Maggie Cash and Mr. James Parrish are very sick.
Miss Bobbie Shearin is visiting at Mr.
W. A. Clifton's this week.
Misses Lena and Mary Brown, who have been right here, are improving.
Mrs. N. A. Allen has returned home from a visit to relatives at Durham.
Miss Bessie Major has returned home from a visit to Miss Mary Shearin at Harrisburg.

Mr. Arch Joyner left last week for Wake Forest to join his husband, who is at work at that place.

Mrs. Dolphus Thompson, Miss Katie Rooker and the members of Mrs. Hall's family who have had fever, are recovering and all are able to be out.

Mrs. Lizzie Fleming, of Freeze, Va., and Mrs. Nancy Whorley, of Fayetteville, are visiting their mother, Mrs. R.
M. Sanders, and their sister, Mrs. H. H.
Craig.

Mighty Haag Shows Coming.

There will be a treat seldom in store for the amusement-going public when the "Mighty Haag Shows" exhibit at Henderson on September 10th.
The program this year has been so arranged as to please everybody, being one of the greatest lists of features ever offered by any amusement purveyor.

E. Haag, proprietor of the Mighty Haag Shows, was successful in securing the celebrated aeroplanist, Mons. De Paulhan, as one of the features, also securing one of the rarest animals known to mankind, the Hippopotamus Equinus, which today is almost extinct, when added to his large zoological collection will make it second to none.

These two features are alone worth the price of admission and with other amusement enterprises would be the crowning feature, while with the Mighty Haag it is only one of the many features offered by the big Southern Circus.
The usual approval has been placed upon the Mighty Haag Shows by the amusement-going public of the entire South.

Kittrell News Notes.

Miss Lucile Ellis is visiting at Ridgeway.
Miss Annie May Barnes is at Raleigh visiting friends.

Mr. J. L. Hunt, of Durham, was at home last week recuperating from a slight illness.

Miss Katie Capehart has returned home after a most pleasant stay in Washington City.

Misses Sallie Lou Macon, of Ingleside, and Lucy Wiggins, of Middlebrook, spent last week with Mrs. Joe Ellis.

Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Hughes, of Raleigh, and Misses Mattie and Kathleen Ballard, of Franklinton, are visiting Mrs. C. H. Blackburn.

Master John Boddie Crup has as his house guests Masters Tom Skinner, Kit-trel and John Hillard Jollycock, of Henderson, and Miss Misher Rogers, of Raleigh.

The members of the younger set made merry with Mr. Hearcourt Blackburn Friday night. Chocolate and vanilla cream and cake were served by Miss Kate Blackburn and Mr. Beverly Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kittrell and daughter Lucy, of Henderson, and Mrs. Frank Ferguson, of Raleigh, were here the first of the week to attend the wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs.
G. W. Kittrell.

One of the most elaborate as well as enjoyable social events of the season was the "At Home" given the night of the 17th by Miss Sallie Charles (beat-niss) daughter of Mr. C. A. H. H.
W. Roney. The spacious piazza and yard were beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns. After a delightful evening of delicious and cooling refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kittrell, two of our most beloved people, celebrated the 49th anniversary of their marriage Monday afternoon, Rev. and Mrs. N. C.
Hughes, of Raleigh, being the guests of honor. Many friends called during the afternoon. The house and piazza were beautifully decorated with cut flowers, and ferns. Many this charming couple have many more such anniversaries.

I said last week that we once had old ladies among us. I might have said old maids, too. Yes, and old maids. These very eyes have seen them. No spinsters, bachelor girls and all that fol-de-rol, but real old maids—prim, lavender scented, busy working "twin beds" as the old ladies were knitting socks. I'd give my interest in all the new fangle for just a glimpse of a real, genuine, old timey old maid.
Light be the turf upon them, cat, riddle and all.

Flat Rock News.

Miss Ellen White is visiting in Granville county this week.
Mrs. Lucy Bowden, of Cokesbury, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Satter-thwaite, this week.

Miss Sallie Roster, of Townsville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. B. Parham, this week.

Mr. W. P. Parham and family, of Spring Valley, spent Sunday with the family of his father in this community.

Mr. S. Parham visited Flemington Sunday afternoon. It seems there is some attraction over that way for Mr.
Parham.
Farmers are now very busy curing tobacco. The tobacco crop so far shows up much better than farmers had expected of it.

The "tramp" has also been worrying the people in this neighborhood. He is a strange, pitiful human being, but he is a good walker and can certainly get around all right.

Miss Nannie Parham, of Henderson, accompanied by Misses Carrie Draper and Mary Wortham, spent Saturday night and Sunday in this community with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B.
Parham.

Mr. W. R. Green, more familiarly known as "Uncle Scarp," spent last week at Mr. T. B. Parham's, who had gotten him to come and try his skill at shooting squirrels as they were eating his corn so badly. He was fairly successful.

Mr. John Buchanan and family visited Mr. Buchanan's mother, Mrs. Mary Best, on Broad street Sunday night and Sunday. They and others from this section attended preaching at Brookston Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. A. McClure preached a most excellent sermon. He is a very impressive preacher, and to hear him is always a pleasure.

Spring Valley News Items.

Mrs. Benton, of Henderson, is visiting her son, Mr. H. Britt, this week.

Mr. E. P. Houghtaling is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. H. Stewart.

Mr. H. A. Riggs, of Durham, visited in the home of Mrs. E. W. Wortham last week.

Mrs. Will Stewart visited Mrs. Robert Turner and Mrs. P. L. Mustian last week.

Mrs. Hugh Weldon, of Warren Plains, visited her aunt, Mrs. L. J. Baskett, last week.

Mr. Charlie Baskett spent Saturday and Sunday with his uncle in Warren county.

Dr. Bass still passes to see Mrs. Belvidge, who condition is not very much improved.

Mrs. O. N. Marshall, of Durham, is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.
M. Harris, at Henderson.

Mr. Thomas Lassiter, of Durham, is spending a few days here with his cousin, Mr. Claud Wortham.

Mrs. H. Stewart spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Wortham, who has been quite sick for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hoyle and Mr. B.
M. Harris were guests of Mr. and Mrs.
L. M. Harris Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Thomas Pirie, of Louisville, Ky., is spending his vacation with his mother and other relatives in this community.

Mr. Perry Baskett has sold the first load of new tobacco grown on his farm this year, which brought a fairly good price.

Cokesbury Items.

The Sunday school at Cokesbury has grown to be a very large one during the past few months. Its membership now numbers nearly two hundred, and more are joining each Sunday. The young people of the community are taking a great deal of interest in the school and its work, for which Mr. L. H. Lanford gives them high praise.

Mrs. Emma Buchanan spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Martha Duke, at Henderson.

Mr. Sam Hicks visited his uncle, Mr.
Sam Hicks, near Epsom last week.

Misses Emma and Ruth Buchanan, of Shady Grove, are visiting their uncle, Mr. J. H. Buchanan, in this community
this week.

On account of the rainy weather this week, the farmers are having a bad start at saving the hay and fodder.

News From Middleburg.

Miss Willie Dunn visited Mrs. W. T.
Rowland Sunday.

Mr. Sykes, a telegrapher, is working third trick here for a few days.

Miss Mabel Harris, of Henderson, visited her mother, Mrs. W. T. Rowland, last week and returned Thursday night.

Miss Louise Bennett, who has been visiting friends at Elizabeth City, will return home this week.

There were services at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning, conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. C. Allred.
